Some aspects to be aware of when selecting shutters.

Choosing colours similar to your walls will help the shutters blend in with the room. Shutters in white or light colours will both brighten the feeling of a room and enhance the natural light source. OPEN high UV-resistant paint is recommended when the window is exposed to strong direct sunlight.

On the other hand, shutters in timber finishes make a design statement and can become an attractive feature in themselves. As most natural finishes can patinate with age, they are best not used in harsh sunlight. The use of timber can add a feeling of warmth to studies and lounge rooms, was well as making elegant screens and room dividers.

Perth Plantation Shutters offer a fantastic selection of blade styles and finishes to help you turn your windows into a stylish feature . . .

. . . adding value to your home and insulate against the elements.

OPEN Plantation Shutters will add style to your home for decades to come. Premium finishes and hard wearing for Australian conditions, as well as featuring stronger joints and waterproof glues, ensures you get a superior fit and lasting finish. Available in flat or aerofoil blades.

Want the superior look and feel of painted timber shutters but need a harder wearing, moisture proof solution?

Look no further than Thermalite, the ideal alternative in an advanced polymer material. OPEN lite is perfect for urban environments, or bathrooms with their extremes of heat and moisture. Thermalite is suitable for internal and external applications

White goes with everything, so the crisp, white, UV-resistant finish and clean lines of aerofoil blades makes OPEN Coastal the right choice for both looking good and wearing well. Whether indoor or outdoors, Coastal low maintenance shutters makes long term sense for both your home or investment property.
